Summary of Accomplishments:

RIM Buffers Phase 1 combined the resource benefits of the Outdoor Heritage Fund (LSOHC), Clean Water Fund (CWF), and bond funds. This program exceeded our acreage goal by 439 acres (37%), enrolling a total of 1,595.4 acres of enhanced wildlife and water quality buffers in partnership with private landowners on 46 easements.

Process & Methods:

September 2011: BWSR Board authorized the RIM Buffer program

October 2011: BWSR Board reviewed timeline and ranking criteria

November 2011: SWCD program training and rollout of the RFP process where SWCDs requested project areas.

January 2012: SWCDs requested local project areas, which determined where eligible projects could occur.

February-March 2012: First landowner signup period was held. SWCDs marketed the program to landowners, completed an initial review of eligibility and scoring, and submitted applications to BWSR for funding consideration.

Subsequent signups were announced and held to fund additional easements, which followed a similar process of screening committee review and allocation of funding to funded applications.

Summer 2012: BWSR completed first funding allocations to applications. Applications first underwent an eligiblity review and confirmation that sites met appropriation guidelines. Applications were funded if they met the minimum wildlife benefits score. Those that did not meet this minimum score were not eligible and were either directed to secure a standalone CWF buffer, or to enroll in a different program. A total of 46 easements were funded and acquired.

2014: Last easements acquired with these funds were recorded.

2014-Onward: Restorations occurred. BWSR is held to the statutory requirement that requires restoration of the easements we acquire. This restoration includes establishment of acceptable vegetation, if the current cover does not adequately meet site goals.

This partnership program permanently added grassland habitat and reduced fragmentation by combining the efforts of the Outdoor Heritage Fund, Clean Water Fund, and bonding to secure buffers adjacent to public waters. Building upon the 100-foot RIM buffers funded through the Clean Water Fund, we added an additional buffer width (up to NRCS 393 standard for CRP buffers) to make clean water buffers more attractive and productive for wildlife. This program contributed toward the development of new habitat complexes and enhancement of existing habitats by expanding the size of narrow corridors and connecting them to large, permanently protected grasslands, wetlands, and shallow lakes.

Furthermore, these wildlife buffers were targeted for landscapes with existing permanently protected habitat to accelerate progress toward achieving minimum thresholds of grass habitat required by waterfowl and other Species of Greatest Conservation Need. Many Species of Greatest Conservation Need benefit from large habitat patches and some require a minimum threshold of grassland habitat within a landscape. The Sedge wren, a Species of Greatest Conservation Need (SGCN) most commonly associated with grassland habitat, is encountered in buffer areas. Bird use is influenced by buffer width, with greater widths experiencing greater abundance and diversity of birds and grassland species.

Buffers are commonly viewed as simply a water quality practice, but buffers have notable positive impacts on wildlife due their unique upland and riverine habitat interaction. Not only are upland grasslands protected or restored, but detrimental impacts to stream-reliant biota is reduced. Many species of amphibians, such as southern MN's Northern Cricket Frog (endangered) rely on aquatic habitat during the breeding season and then spend most of their lives in upland habitat. In Southeastern MN, reptiles such as the Blanding's Turtle (endangered) rely on meandering streams, rivers, and adjacent lands.

A scoring mechanism was employed to fund high quality wildlife buffer enhancements and target these funds. Buffers for wildlife under this program were prioritized based upon their ability to enhance public land habitats (e.g., WPA's or WMA's), protect expiring CRP lands, add key nesting cover to wetland/upland complexes, provide maximum water quality benefits, and enhance shallow lakes.

Agricultural expansion, biofuel production, and expiration of Conservation Reserve Program contracts had accelerated the loss of grass habitat in Minnesota. At the time this program was implemented, Minnesota had just over 200,000 acres of CRP in buffer practices at various stages of their 10-15 year contracts, some soon to expire. The RIM Buffer program served as a complement to other programs to secure these expiring acres.

Explain Partners, Supporters, & Opposition:

Delivery of this program was a coordinated approach that brought together Minnesota BWSR, Minnesota DNR, local SWCD's, Pheasants Forever and other key conservation partners interested in private land conservation.

Additional Comments:

Exceptional challenges, expectations, failures, opportunities, or unique aspects of program

This was the first phase of the successful RIM Buffer program, which built upon the minimum required buffer width (funded with Clean Water Funds) and allowed these buffers to be expanded to a width more suitable for wildlife. Furthermore, bond funds were leveraged in some cases where rounding out the remaining portion of a field would make the most sense to reduce offsite impacts and allow for additional restoration opportunities.

Local Soil and Water Conservation Districts (SWCDs) determined priority watersheds to target their efforts, and the scoring and ranking process used with this program selected those sites with the greatest environmental benefits.

This program was successful in securing sites where current CRP contracts were expiring. It is estimated that over 1200 of the 1595 acres were enrollments of expiring CRP.

Landowner interest exceeded available funds and this program was able to secure the highest scoring sites.

Other Funds Received:

- Environmental and Natural Resource Trust Fund
- Clean Water Fund
- Bond funds

How were the funds used to advanced the program:

Indirectly, the Farm Bill Assistance Partnership with BWSR, DNR, PF, and SWCDs paid for SWCDs to hire technicians to promote conservation provisions of the Federal Farm Bill and other conservation programs to private landowners. The Environmental and Natural Resources Trust Fund provided $1.0 million in funding via an LCCMR recommendation beginning July 1, 2009 to June 30, 2011. Clean Water Funds and bond funds were used to expand buffer width, meaning that for every $1 of OHF, over $1 of CWF and bond funds were leveraged.

What is the plan to sustain and/or maintain this work after the Outdoor Heritage Funds are expended:

Once a RIM easement is acquired, BWSR is responsible for maintenance, inspection and monitoring into perpetuity. The BWSR partners with local SWCDs to carry-out oversight, monitoring and inspection of its conservation easements. Easements are inspected for the first five consecutive years beginning in the year after the easement is recorded. Thereafter, on-site inspections are performed every three years and compliance checks are performed in the other two years. SWCDs report to BWSR on each site inspection conducted and partners' staff document findings. A non-compliance procedure is implemented when potential violations or problems are identified. The amount listed for Easement Stewardship covers a portion of costs of the SWCD regular monitoring, BWSR oversight, and enforcement.

Estimates based on available data show that 90% of easements secured with this funding were placed on expiring CRP contracts. Each easement is privately owned and managed under a plan.

Shallow lake protection as a result of riparian buffers benefits migratory birds.

Explain any budget challenges or successes:

We successfully leveraged Clean Water Funds and bond funds to achieve 1,595.4 acres of permanent protection, exceeding the acreage goal listed in the Accomplishment Plan (1,156 acres). Our actual leverage also exceeded our anticipated leverage. All funds have been encumbered and all budget lines are reported as spent. Should any left over funds remain as the appropriation closeout occurs in the State financial system, they will be returned to the Outdoor Heritage Fund.

Explain the success/shortage of acre goals:

Forty six easements were recorded on 430.3 OHF acres to complete the easement acquisition portion of the project. The total easement acres are 1,595.4 acres from all funding sources, which is reported in the Output Tables above.

Therefore, acreage goals were exceeded by 439.4 acres (a 38% increase). The Accomplishment Plan listed a goal 1156 acres, while we achieved 1,595.4 acres through this program.
